They sing four numbers and are usually obliged to respond to several encores which shows itself how well they are appreciated. Nina Esphey, "the banjo girl," is perhaps next in favor of the patrons and wins her share of applaines. Especially good is her rendering of the "Glow Worm" with varietions. "An Ante-Beilum Suffragette," presented by Louise Morrison & Co., is very funny and contains many good lines which are caught up by the audience. out of Mammonism."

Almost unknown to the world outside of labor, a movement wide as the universe grows and prospers.

Its vitality is incredible, and its humapitarian ideals come to those who labor as drink to parched throats.

Its creed and programme call forth a passionate adherence, its converts serve it with a daily devotion that knows no limit of sacrifice, and in the face of persecution, misrepresentation face of persecution, misrepresentation even martyrdom they remain loyal

In Russia its missionaries are exiled, imprisoned and massacred, but the progress of the movement is only quickened by persecution, proving once again that the blood of the movement. again that the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church. nated and appailed, are railying for a fruntal attack.

From Russia, across Europe and America to Japan, from Canada to Argentina, and from Norway and Finland to South Africa and Australia, it crosses frontiers, breaking through the barriers of language, nationality and religion, as it spreads from factory to factory, from mill to mill and from mine to mine, touching as it goes with the religion of life the millions of the underworld. And the strangest thing of all is the desire of our opponents to conceal the immense and growing power of the rew movement.

SAY, LITTLE BOY!

Say, little boy, with the red-rips cheeks.
What, says your beart when the school-time calls?
Lingers it not where the play-time speaks.
Shrinking away from the lore-grissed halls? Say, little boy?

Say little boy, does your top, lament?
What say your bat, and your gloves,

Weeping, they mourn o'er the days
they've spent
Playing with you and the other

Eh, little boy?

Ah, little boy! 'tis a busy world, But there's a time and a place for Off to the school in a trice you're whirled.

But vacation time, it will come some day

Eh, little boy?

Say, little boy, dry your dimming eyes:
Sunshine were joyless were't not for

Work while you may, and the schooltime flies.
But work—and anon you may play
